Partnership means taking over responsibility

In the dynamic electronic components market, reliable partnerships are of supreme value. That is why we, the MEV Elektronik Service GmbH team, particularly appreciate such partnerships in which we are working both with our suppliers and our customers.

Innovative technologies by renowned manufacturers, highly specialized support by our application experts and transparent communication – these are the MEV attributes.

Wherever you set your priorities, we take care of the selection and procurement of the optimal components and give advice with regard to alternative solutions – even including own laboratory support – and ensure smooth logistics.

Thus, we ensure high-quality and functionally perfect complete solutions and at the same time make a decisive contribution to efficient production resulting in a cost-optimized overall concept.

We are working on making your visions come true

Your visions are our challenges. Our team and our many years of experience are the basis for making these visions come true.

With our philosophy and a sound growth policy we are in a good position to meet the continuously increasing demands of an expanding market at any time.

And wherever we have not reached maximum performance yet, we are working on it. That's a promise!
